

Bringing Baby Home: A community-based doula approach to supporting new parents in the City of Yarra

Do you live or work in the City of Yarra and want to help new parents in your community feel more connected?

Join this free, one-day session to learn how Birth for Humankind's (volunteer) community doula model helps new parents – especially those facing systemic disadvantage – feel more confident and supported.

Discover how, as a doula, you could help strengthen the connection between families and local services, while fostering a nurturing environment that empowers parents during the critical postnatal period.

- Introduction to postnatal doula skills and knowledge (learning how to support new parents and link them with essential services).
- Explore pathways to complete BFH's full doula training and volunteer doula program.

Spaces are limited - register to attend today

Register Now

Thursday 14th
November 2024

10.30am to
3.30pm

Bargoonga Nganjin
Group Study Room

182-186 St Georges
Road, North Fitzroy

Supported by

Learn more about
Birth for Humankind

